

MicroCafé

Seminars on the History and Philosophy of Microeconomics

MicroCafé is a series of seminars devoted to historical and philosophical research in the foundations of microeconomics. Participation is open to all scholars interested in these topics. Papers are circulated in advance.

Seminars take place every fortnight on Wednesday between 5.00-6.30 PM at Bocconi University, Department of Economics, Via Röntgen 1, 20136 Milan, fifth floor, seminar room E4-SR04, unless otherwise specified.

After the seminar, participants are invited to an informal "happy hour" discussion.

For information, contact francesco.guala@unimi.it or ivan.moscati@unibocconi.it

Spring 2010

March 10: Luigino Bruni (University of Milan-Bicocca)
The Virtues of the Market (with R. Sugden)

March 23, Tuesday: Cristina Bicchieri (University of Pennsylvania)
The Fragility of Fairness: The Conditional Status of Pro-social Norms

April 14: Franco Donzelli (University of Milan)
Edgeworth vs. Walras on Equilibrium and Disequilibrium

April 28: Francesco Guala (University of Milan)
Reciprocity: Weak or Strong? What Punishment Experiments Do Not Demonstrate

May 5: Ivan Moscati (Bocconi University)
From the Classical to the Representational Notion of Measurement in Utility Theory

May 19: Paola Tubaro (University of Greenwich)
Agent-based Computational Economics: a Methodological Appraisal

June 9: Marco Dardi (University of Florence)
Rationality as Consistency